

Ulster Careers In Sport Employability Website

www.ulster.ac.uk/careersin/sport

Dr Rachael Telford (Lecturer, School of Sport) & Mrs Julie Gerrish (Career Development Consultant)

Why was this website developed?

- There are a wide range of employability related resources and information available to School of Sport students across a range of platforms which makes it difficult for students to know where to go and when to access the right information at the right time.
- The Careers In Sport website was therefore developed as a one stop resource for students to access all relevant information in a timely manner.
- The website therefore provides a pathway for the development of students' employability by targeting sports specific and careers information, for each type of student at their specific stage of their career journey, to improve their career outcomes after graduation and in the longer term.

- The website is closely aligned with Ulster University's Learning and Teaching Strategy vision to empower learners to excel in professional life through transformative higher education
- The website also provides appropriate learning opportunities which are flexible, responsive to, and inclusive of, the needs of students, professions, industry and the wider community.
- The website enhances Ulster's role as a sector leader for student employability as an integral part of the wider student experience.
- It aligns with the new Five & Fifty strategic approach by providing opportunities for students to develop their employability so that they can be both globally and locally relevant in the workplace throughout their studies and after graduation.
- The Careers In Sport website also aligns with all of the Ulster Learning Experience Principles: Employability, Digital Skills, Internationalisation, Research / Teaching Nexus, Ethics and Sustainability and the Ulster Learning Model.

A Collaborative Approach:

- Key stakeholders have involved in the development of the website from its inception. These Stakeholders include Employability and Marketing, Digital Marketing, students, alumni, careers teachers and School of Sport staff.

Plan for 2017-2018:

- The School of Sport and Employability and Marketing have secured a centrally funded placement student who will help with the development of the Careers In Sport Website.
- The placement student will also support the roll out of the website to 4 other Schools at Ulster University
- There will be the creation of an online resource for other Schools to use in the development of their own "Careers In" website.
- Liaise with students, careers teachers and staff to maximise all areas of content on the website.
- Develop opportunities for staff to utilise the website to help advise students.
- Tracking usage of the website and updating content on an ongoing basis.

Contact details:

If you are interested in finding out more about how your subject area could develop their own "Careers In" website please contact:

Dr Rachael Telford (School of Sport)

rmj.telford@ulster.ac.uk

Julie Gerrish (Career Development Consultant)

j.gerrish@ulster.ac.uk

What stage are you at on your Sport career?

1.Future student -

I want to find out about careers in my subject

2.Currently at Ulster University -

I am in the early stages of my study

3.On work placement or studying abroad -

I will be returning to study next year

4.In the final stages of my studies -

I am planning my next career step

5.Already graduated -

I am looking to progress with further study or career options

Explore the range of local and international opportunities that the School of Sport and the Career Development Centre have to offer to you at this stage of your employability development.

Plan what you will do to enhance your employability through opportunities offered through the School of Sport, at Ulster University and further afield through work and study.

Actions you should be taking now to enhance your employability. An action plan is also available to help you set deadlines and targets for yourself.

Check out what we in the School of Sport and the Career Development Centre would suggest you should have considered accomplishing by this stage of your career journey.