

Quality and Compassion: Challenges and Opportunities for Mental Health

14th Annual Mental Health Conference 2017

Saturday 28 October 2017

Ulster University, Institute of Nursing and Health Research, School of Nursing,
Magee campus, Northland Road, Derry~Londonderry, BT48 7JL

- 08.30 Registration and Coffee
- 09.00 Welcome: Dr Malachy O'Neill, Head of School of Irish Language and Literature and Provost of the Magee campus
- 09.15 Opening Address: Martin Daly, Consultant in Service User Experience, BHSCT

09.45 KEYNOTE 1:
“Interpersonal Relationships in Mental Health Nursing: never mind the quality, feel the compassion”
Professor Hugh McKenna, Dean of Medical School Development at Ulster University

10.30 KEYNOTE 2:
“Minding the gap: connecting and coordinating for quality in mental health care”
Professor Ben Hannigan, School of Healthcare Sciences, College of Biomedical and Life Sciences, Cardiff University

11.15 Tea and Coffee
Conference exhibition and poster viewing – Great Hall

11.45 Platform Sessions Service User Experts

Session ONE:
11.45 - 12.00
Mrs Rosie Moore

Session TWO:
12.00 - 12.15
Miss Kelly Donaghy

Session THREE:
12.15 - 12.30
Miss Karen Elliott and Miss Brona Dyson

Open Forum Discussion:
12.30 - 13.00

13.00 Lunch
Conference exhibition and poster viewing – Great Hall

14.00 KEYNOTE 3:
“Quality and Compassion: is it possible to have one without the other?”
Professor Mary Chambers, Faculty of Health, Social Care and Education, St. George's, University of London

15.00 Tea and Coffee
Conference exhibition and poster viewing – Great Hall

15.30 KEYNOTE 4:
“Community mental health nurses and compassion: an interpretative approach” Kim Barron, Charge Nurse, Paisley Community Mental Health Team

16.30 Conference Close

14th Annual Mental Health Conference 2017
Saturday 28 October 2017

Ulster University, Institute of Nursing and Health Research, School of Nursing, Magee campus, Northland Road, Derry-Londonderry, BT48 7JL

Quality and Compassion: Challenges and Opportunities for Mental Health

14th Annual Mental Health Conference 2017

Saturday 28 October 2017

Ulster University, Institute of Nursing and Health Research, School of Nursing,
Magee campus, Northland Road, Derry~Londonderry, BT48 7JL

8.30am - 4.30pm

(Registration Opens 8.30am)

Fees:

£80.00 Full Day Rate

£40.00 Student Discounted Rate

There are a limited number of concessionary places available by arrangement directly with conference organisers for registered charities and service users. The above fees include lunch, refreshments and conference documentation. For further information on this event, please contact:

Ms Marie O'Neill, Conference Manager,
Ulster University, Institute of Nursing and Health Research,
School of Nursing, Magee campus, Northland Road,
Derry~Londonderry, BT48 7JL

T: 028 71 675437 E: m.oneill@ulster.ac.uk