ABOUT THIS GUIDE

This guide is written for professionals, carers and those supporting young people who are making choices about their future education and are considering Further and Higher Education. It is aimed at those who have an interest in promoting the wellbeing and educational attainment of young people in and leaving care in Northern Ireland.

The guide seeks to make explicit the roles and contributions of the various agencies that will be engaged in supporting a young person make plans for and access continued education. In particular it provides information on the various colleges and higher education institutions (CAFRE) in Northern Ireland and their particular arrangements for supporting looked after and care experienced young people. It also sets out, in an accessible, composite resource, information about pathways into continued education, the supports available, application routes and financial provision. It can be used as a reference guide by foster carers, guardians, kinship carers, social workers, 16+ advisers, careers advisers, and practitioners within the Further and Higher Education institutions.

The guide is the product of collaborative working across further education colleges, higher education institutions, the Department for the Economy, the Department of Education, Health and Social Care, Voice of Young people in Care and Fostering Network in Northern Ireland.

Supporting young people into further or higher education requires the availability of up to date information in order to forward plan and to effectively assist young people to make informed choices. It is best that effective and timely planning takes place at the earliest possible stages. It is therefore hoped that this guide will make a helpful contribution to achieving this goal. Its development has been based on a shared commitment by the agencies involved to provide the highest standard of support to looked after and care experienced young people continuing in education through further education colleges and higher educational institutions.

KEY FINDINGS INDICATE:

- A higher proportion of care leavers aged 16 – 18 (12%) are coping with Disability compared with the general population (6%).
- 25% of care leavers had a Statement of Educational Needs compared with the general school population (5%).
- Two thirds of care leavers had GCSEs or other qualifications. The population of care leavers obtaining 5 GCSEs (A* - C) or higher was 26% which remains lower than for school leavers as a whole (82%).
- The proportion of young people leaving care with no qualifications was 33% in 2016/17, over 15 times that for general school leavers.
- Of care leavers for whom information was available, almost three in five (58%) were in education or training, 12% were working and 30% were unemployed or economically inactive.

WHY EDUCATION?

“I owe a lot to my personal adviser. He believed in me and encouraged me when others just laughed at the notion of ambition. He guided and helped me apply. I’m really glad I’m here today meeting new friends and having some craic as well as studying!”

- ULSTER UNIVERSITY STUDENT

Education is a key driver towards achieving positive employment outcomes in adulthood. There remains a significant gap between the educational achievements of care leavers and their peers. This guide is a reference resource for those working with and supporting Looked After and care experienced young people to help them maximise educational opportunities and attain economic independence in adult life through employment.

The guide provides current information on the support available to young people in and leaving care that plan to continue further educational studies in Northern Ireland primarily. All further education and higher education institutions in Northern Ireland have contributed to the material contained in the guide and have set out the range of supports available.

Where a young person is seeking to undertake studies outside of Northern Ireland it is recommended that support staff and carers, in the first instance, establish the nature of supports available from the selected college or university. The guide contains a list of those that have acquired the Quality Mark (Buttle UK) in Appendix 3 which is an indicator of additional support being made available to young people leaving care. The support available and how it can be accessed should be well researched in advance as part of helping a young person to make choices and to prepare for his / her next educational steps. Support specifically available for young people leaving care should be fully maximised so that the young person benefits.

CORPORATE PARENTING RESPONSIBILITY

THE ROLE OF HEALTH AND SOCIAL CARE TRUSTS

Helping children and young people in care to succeed in education, reach their potential and fulfill ambitions will make a major contribution to realising positive outcomes and to promoting their economic wellbeing in adult life.

The Children (NI) Order 1995 is the primary legislative framework governing arrangements for children in care. It defines duties and powers of an authority/Health and Social Care Trust to children in care.

Under Article 26 of the Order, Health and Social Care Trusts have a duty to promote the welfare of children in care. This includes their educational achievement.

Articles 34A and 35C of the Children (Leaving Care) Act 2002 set out the need for preparing pathway plans for young people in care when they attain 16 years of age. Regulation 7 of, and the Schedule to, the Children (Leaving Care) Regulations (NI) 2005 sets out the matters to be dealt with within the Pathway Plan which includes a detailed plan for the education or training of the young person. Personal Education Plans (PEPs) were introduced in 2011 for all Looked After children and are required to be developed alongside teachers and in place up to compulsory school leaving age.

The Pathway Plan which is a statutory requirement must be in place for Looked After Young People from aged 16 (post compulsory education) and includes a specific domain on Education, Training and Employment.

Together the PEPs and Pathway Plans focus on ensuring that children and young people in care and care leavers aged 16-21+ are fully supported to take full advantage of learning opportunities within education and throughout their care experience and beyond.

TARGET POPULATION

The Guide is primarily focused on looked after and care experienced young people aged 16-21+ years who have entitlement to the provisions of the Children (Leaving Care) Act 2002.

The Act defines these young people across four categories:

ELIGIBLE YOUNG PERSON	RELEVANT YOUNG PERSON	FORMER RELEVANT YOUNG PERSON	QUALIFYING YOUNG PERSON
a young person aged 16/17 who has been looked after by a Trust for a period of 13 weeks since the age of 14 and is still looked after.	a young person aged 16/17 who has left care and before leaving care was an eligible young person.	a young person aged 18-21 (or beyond if, being helped with education or training) who, before turning 18 was either an eligible or relevant young person, or both.	a young person aged under 21 who after reaching the age of 16, but whilst still under 18, was looked after by a Trust, accommodated in a voluntary children's home or privately fostered.

For each category specific duties and powers apply which are directed towards supporting the young person to make a positive transition from care and to achieve stability and economic independence in adult life.

The main provisions and entitlements as detailed in the Children (Leaving Care) Act 2002 are:

Each responsible Health and Social Care Trust has a duty to assess and meet the care and support needs of eligible, relevant and former relevant children;

The responsible Trust has a duty to keep in touch with all its care leavers who qualify under the Children (Leaving Care) Act;

All eligible, relevant and former relevant children must have a personal adviser;

The relevant Trust must maintain and accommodate relevant children;

The responsible Trust must assist a care leaver in full time further or higher education with vacation accommodation where required;

The responsible Trust must assist a former relevant child with costs associated with employment to the extent that his or her welfare requires it;

The responsible Trust must assist with the costs of education and training up to the end of the agreed programme;

The responsible Trust must assist a former relevant child to the extent that his or her welfare requires it, either in kind or exceptionally in cash.

ROLE OF HEALTH AND SOCIAL CARE TRUSTS

In Northern Ireland there are five Health and Social Care Trusts who, under the Scheme for Delegated Authority, have the primary responsibility for discharging the duties and powers owed to looked after children and care leavers.

For the 16-21+ group of young people these responsibilities are fulfilled on behalf of a Trust through Family and Childcare 16 Plus Teams. These teams comprise of social workers and personal advisers who undertake the role of supporting young people in preparing for leaving care from age 16 through to after care up to age 21. The role continues beyond 21 where a young person is completing a course of education or a training programme.

THE SUPPORT PROVIDED INCLUDES:

- Provision of a named social worker/personal adviser to each young person.
- Completion of a holistic needs assessment for each young person at age 16. The assessment addresses a number of prescribed domains including education, training and employment.
- Completion of a Pathway Plan for each young person. Based on the needs assessment the Plan sets out how needs will be met, future goals and the means and timescales for meeting needs and achieving goals. The Plan includes a specific domain on Education, Training and Employment and where such needs are identified should make explicit the emotional, practical and financial supports to be provided.
- Arrangements for review of the Pathway Plan which must be undertaken on six monthly intervals or more frequently if required.

In order to effectively complete the needs assessment and fulfill aspects of the Pathway Plan, the social worker/personal adviser will, of necessity, engage with relevant others, for example, the Northern Ireland Housing Executive regarding future accommodation; the Careers Service to assist the young person with future career choices. Multi-agency working is a fundamental component of 16 Plus Transition Services given the range of needs that must be met for looked after children who are transitioning from care.

Establishing positive, constructive and sustained working relationships between 16 Plus Services, Further Education colleges and Higher Education Institutions is central to raising the aspirations of young people in care and to assisting them to engage in and maintain continued educational studies. It is therefore expected where a young person is pursuing educational studies that interface discussion will have taken place, involving the young person, student support services and 16 Plus staff or carers. These discussions should be aimed at helping the young person familiarise her/himself with the place of study, establish how best the young person can be supported to make a positive transition to further or higher education, how any barriers can be overcome and any difficulties that might arise will be communicated and resolved in a timely way. An important aspect of preparing for further or higher education is ascertaining the financial means available to a young person. It is the role of the young person's named worker, along with the young person and his / her carer, to set out a financial plan taking account of all sources of financial assistance that is available including the contribution from the Trust. This will make explicit costs, sources of income and assist the young person to understand budgeting implications and to be reassured of the financial resources available to undertake the chosen course of studies.

Contact details for each Trust are in Appendix 1.

WHAT IS CAREER GUIDANCE AND WHO DELIVERS IT?

Careers guidance helps an individual consider their skills, qualifications and experience, identify opportunities and develop achievable career plans. It will help analyse labour market trends and opportunities, make informed, appropriate and achievable decisions in relation to education, training and employment and help achieve personal career goals.

Careers advice and guidance is delivered throughout Northern Ireland by the Department for the Economy's professionally qualified Careers advisers based in Careers Resource Centres, Careers Offices, Jobcentres and Jobs & Benefits offices.

NORTHERN IRELAND'S FURTHER AND HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR

Going to college or university is a really exciting opportunity. It enables young people to study an area of interest in a university or college of choice, experience a new place and make a new network of friends.

It is also an important step towards increasing independence, where young people have more freedom at college and university and more responsibility for themselves.

Further Education provides opportunities to go on to Higher Education at university or even in Further Education colleges as well as pathways directly into employment or training programmes.

WHAT PROVISIONS DO COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES MAKE FOR LOOKED AFTER AND CARE EXPERIENCED YOUNG PEOPLE?

The focus on the educational progression and attainment of young people from a care background has increased significantly in recent years with greater emphasis placed by higher and further education institutions on proactively engaging and supporting this cohort of young people.

The Buttle UK Quality Mark for Care Leavers has played a significant part in establishing principles and minimum standards which have shaped university and further education provision and support to looked after and care experienced young people.

All of the universities and many of the colleges in Northern Ireland have attained the UK Buttle Quality Award which resulted in a structured, sustained approach to encourage and promote participation and uptake by care leavers.

Buttle UK ceased operation of the Quality Mark for care leavers in 2015 acknowledging that this cohort of young people were now recognised more properly and were being provided for within bespoke support and through the Widening Participation programmes.

Within Northern Ireland a culture and practice of supporting looked after and care experienced young people is well embedded across universities and further education colleges. A continued focus and emphasis is maintained through the Widening Participation strategy (Department for the Economy) and associated Widening Access Participation Plans and further strengthened through the forthcoming Programme for Government and through the Social Inclusion Project of the Further Education Strategy, Further Education Means Success.

This work is galvanised and supported through a multi-agency regional group on “Pathways to Further and Higher Education for Looked After and Care Experienced Young People”. The membership comprises of representatives from all colleges and universities in Northern Ireland, Department for the Economy, HSC Trusts, VOYPIC, Fostering Network and Include Youth and is hosted and facilitated by the Health and Social Care Board.

ACCESS TO SUCCESS is the Department for the Economy's (DfE) regional strategy to widen participation in higher education among those groups which are currently under-represented, in particular students from disadvantaged backgrounds and including students from a care background. It was launched in September 2012 and has a strong focus on the creation of a more accessible sector in which the people who are MOST ABLE but LEAST LIKELY to participate are given every encouragement and support to apply to, and to benefit from, higher education.

Significant progress has been made on a range of measures in the strategy.

THESE INCLUDE:

- the launch in March 2014 of "Reach Higher", a single, centralised and co-ordinated higher education awareness and aspiration raising campaign to better communicate the benefits of higher education to under-represented sections of the community;
- work on the introduction the "Reach" programme which aims to expand the range of aspiration and educational attainment raising programmes at school, college, community and the workplace;
- the introduction of Widening Access and Participation Plans – an amalgamation of Access Agreements and Widening Participation Strategic Assessments into a single document which is produced annually 12-18 months in advance of the proposed fee year. This includes a summary of the institution's widening participation strategy and the groups it is targeting for interventions, a review of its past achievement against regional benchmarks and a detailed programme of anticipated progress each year towards the institution's own targets.

Colleges and Universities in Northern Ireland should at least aim to provide the following to looked after and care experienced young people as a minimum standard:

 <h3>A NAMED CONTACT</h3> Every college and university with the Quality Mark has someone who is there to support looked after children and care leavers, both during the application stage and throughout their course.	 <h3>MONEY</h3> Specific financial support for students who have been in care - this might be a bursary (money to help students during their course which they don't have to pay back), or advice about what extra funding they might be entitled to as a care leaver.
 <h3>ACCOMMODATION</h3> If students need help with where they are living while at college or university there is someone they can speak to. At university they will offer accommodation for 365 days of the year to care leavers.	 <h3>SUPPORT</h3> Someone to talk to about any worries or problems. Many universities offer peer mentoring schemes.

Each college and university offers lots more support for students with a care experience. Many will offer support during the application process, as well as advice on how to manage finances during the course. Some also offer taster days and many universities will offer summer schools and other events to get young people thinking about university.

tick the box

It is important to remind young people when applying to university or higher education institutions through UCAS or who are making an application to a further education college to Tick The Box which asks if he / she has been in care. This will enable universities, higher education institutions and further education colleges to make contact with the young person at the application stage so that they can provide more information about the support available to the young person. If the young person's application is made through UCAS, the young person should be encouraged to contact the University's dedicated advisor who will guide the young person through any application process. Similarly the young person with the support of his/her worker or carer should be encouraged to make contact with the relevant FE college and dedicated contact within the college who is there to support the young person through the process.

FURTHER EDUCATION IN NORTHERN IRELAND

There are 7 Institutions that offer Further Education in Northern Ireland, which include the 6 Further Education Colleges and CAFRE. To access their locations:

Each is committed to the promotion of a caring, supportive environment where staff and students can work together in an atmosphere of mutual respect, so that every student can achieve their full potential. There is a range of services provided to support students including robust safeguarding arrangements.

WHAT IS FURTHER EDUCATION?

If the young person aged 16 or over, he or she could consider on either a full-time or part-time basis. The range of courses provided by colleges spans essential skills, a wide range of vocational and academic programmes and, Higher Education programmes.

More and more pupils are choosing to go into further education and training to undertake an ever increasing range of courses leading to accredited qualifications recognised in industry and by higher education institutions. As well as the traditional A level route, the choices available include:

Diplomas

Apprenticeships

Vocational Qualifications

Further education colleges are also important providers of higher education (HE) courses. The availability of higher education provision in local further education colleges means that higher level courses are much more accessible for students throughout Northern Ireland. This work aims to develop distinctive learning programmes, respond to local demand, develop education and training in higher-level skills, widen participation, and increase the accessibility of Higher Education. Students can study a wide range of courses in various formats including Higher National Diplomas and Foundation degrees and full Honours degrees in Social Work.

SOUTHERN REGIONAL COLLEGE

With a proud history of inclusion the SOUTHERN REGIONAL COLLEGE (SRC) continues to ensure that the quality of care and support for looked after children and care leavers offer the best possible opportunities for them to enter and continue on programmes of study at the College and make their aspirations achievable. Southern Regional College demonstrates a robust widening participation strategy to ensure that students from a care background can access a package of support – financial, pastoral and educational. The Southern Regional College recognises the challenges that young people leaving care face when entering a college environment and are committed to ensuring that we provide the support necessary to ensure they achieve their goals.

SOUTH EASTERN REGIONAL COLLEGE

The SOUTH EASTERN REGIONAL COLLEGE (SERC) recognises that the challenges facing looked after children and care leavers as enormous. Applying for and succeeding within Further Education can seem daunting to looked after and care experienced young people as they face the additional challenges of limited family support, financial disadvantage and sometimes struggling to find somewhere to live. At SERC we aim to help find solutions to these challenges and we encourage all looked after children or care leavers to disclose that they have experienced the care system. This information will be passed directly to the Pastoral Care Team who will then make contact with the young person to discuss their particular circumstances and the options available to them. All information will stay in strict confidence and will not be passed on without prior consent. We have dedicated Student Support Staff who can tailor any support required directly to a young person's needs. Roger Duncan is the dedicated specialist for care leavers.

This fund is to help support those with learning difficulties or disabilities enrolling on Further Education provision. Support can be provided based on individual need and can be either providing technical equipment or personal support. Those declaring a learning difficulty or disability will be assessed upon enrollment to determine the level and type of support required to participate in their course of study.

Colleges also receive funding to facilitate the provision of discrete classes specifically for students who, as a result of the nature or degree of their disability/learning difficulty, are unable to participate in mainstream provision. These classes would typically have fewer students and also permanent classroom assistants to provide the extra support needed.

Early application to local offices of the Education Authority is advised because forms are processed in the order they are received. Contact should be made with EANI to ascertain the closing date for application.

Regardless of whether the College has offered the young person a place on a course, an application should be made as the young person can change his/her course choice at a later date.

She really enjoys being back at work and feels it has been beneficial for both herself and her children.

WHY CHOICES PLUS?

"Choices Plus has opened so many doors for me; it was a big step for me moving back into work and without the support and financial assistance from the project I don't think it would have been possible. It has made a definite improvement to myself and my children's lives. Choices Plus is great and I would highly recommend it"

ten: HSC FINANCIAL SUPPORT

In line with Trust responsibilities to support young people in education the responsible Trust is required to undertake a financial needs assessment with the young person well in advance of embarking on his / her course of study. The financial assessment should clearly set out the expenditure and associated costs that will be incurred and the sources of funding available that will enable the young person to embark on and sustain the course of study. The cost calculator should take account of accommodation / rent, living allowance for food, service charges relating to accommodation, clothing, equipment / materials necessary for study, travel, field trips that may be associated with the course etc.

Where sources of funding external to the Trust do not meet the full costs of studies the Trust should make a grant payable to the young person to ensure that full costs are met and that there is no financial disincentive to the young person pursuing studies in further education. The Trust should maintain contact with the young person and have an understanding of the young person's ongoing progress. Student Support Services within the FE colleges are a primary source of support for the young person and equally for staff and carers who are seeking to identify sources of financial and other forms of support for young people.

Such support should be maximised. Trusts should undertake to review the financial arrangements put in place for the young person on a regular basis.

HIGHER EDUCATION IN NORTHERN IRELAND

Higher Education (HE) is where a young person can study at an advanced level normally after turning 18 years old. In Northern Ireland there are five Higher Education Institutions (HEIs). Details of the specific institutions and respective locations can be sourced through: www.nidirect.gov.uk/articles/universities-and-colleges-northern-ireland

Higher education courses are usually studied at universities, university colleges and Further Education Regional Colleges. However, some courses can be studied at specialist colleges, for example, agriculture, horticulture, food or equine studies.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF HIGHER EDUCATION?

Higher Education helps young people to develop qualities and skills that employers value. For this reason a higher education qualification can lead to better jobs, a wider range of employment opportunities, a more rewarding career and increased earning potential.

Higher Education also allows people to experience a rich cultural and social scene, meet different people and study something that people are really interested in.

OPEN UNIVERSITY

Our dedicated Student Support Teams will maintain individualised support throughout the educational journey, including guidance in choosing study pathways and careers advice.

For Open University students there are grants to help towards the cost of tuition fees. There are two types of grant available which may cover some or all of the costs of studying:

As an open Higher Education Institution in every sense of the word, The Open University welcomes applications from care experienced young people. The UCAS process does not apply to The Open University. Instead, candidates simply enroll on our website - www.open.ac.uk/courses

For most undergraduate degree programmes there are no academic entry requirements. However, there are diagnostic tasters which offer an opportunity for candidates to check their readiness for study at higher education level. Candidates may also initially register for an Access Module “test the water” and to see if distance learning suits them. Distance learning means that there is no need to move close to a university or college – students study at a time and place that suits them. Fee waivers are available to students on certain benefits or a low income to help with costs and our Student Registration Team will guide applicants through the application process.

- Fee grant – a means-tested grant of up to £1230 to help towards the cost of module fees. The amount awarded depends on income and the number of credits you are studying.
- Course grant – help towards study costs, like a laptop, internet access or travel to tutorials.

Candidates can view their funding options on the OU website: www.help.open.ac.uk/topic/payment-and-enrolment/category/ways-to-pay

HOW DO I APPLY TO HIGHER EDUCATION?

- Application to higher education is usually through UCAS (www.ucas.com)
- UCAS stands for the 'Universities and Colleges Admissions Service'.
- UCAS aim is to help students make informed choices that are right for them, guiding them, as well as their parents and advisers, through the entire higher education application process.
- UCAS processes over 2.5 million applications every year, for some 650,000 prospective students across the UK and beyond: helping them gain access to more than 340 UK universities and colleges.

We also run several specialist application services – GTTR (Graduate Teacher Training Registry), UKPASS (UK Postgraduate Application and Statistical Service) and CUKAS (Conservatoires UK Admissions Service).

UCAS is at the heart of connecting people to higher education with a mission to:
“Create value for members through shared services; and deliver admissions services that help applicants make the right choices, for the right reasons and with the right outcomes”

The exceptions are:

- St Mary’s University College
- The Open University
- The FE Regional College

In the case of St Mary’s and the Open University applications for all courses must be made directly to the institution. In the case of the FE Regional Colleges a small number of courses are applied to through UCAS but for the majority of higher education courses application is made directly to the college. Application information can be obtained from each Regional College website.

Entry Requirements

Entry requirements are a guideline of the recommended academic ability the course provider expects the young person to have.

Each course has different requirements – usually a mix of qualifications, subjects or exam grades they recommend the applicant to have or to be working towards. It is good advice to check when searching for courses. There is plenty of support in higher education for care leavers – with finances and accommodation - as well as supporting the young person in new surroundings.

CAN A YOUNG PERSON GET HIGHER EDUCATION FUNDING IN NORTHERN IRELAND?

If a young person normally lives in Northern Ireland he / she may be eligible for funding from Student Finance NI – a partnership between the Department for Employment and Learning in Northern Ireland, the Student Loans Company and the Education Authority in Northern Ireland. To get the funding, the young person and the course of study must be eligible for it.

See www.studentfinancenl.co.uk for further details.

A care experienced young person will be entitled to apply online for:

- A Tuition Fee Loan
- A Maintenance Loan
- A Maintenance Grant or Special Support Grant*

*Special Support Grant

The Special Support Grant currently pays up to £3,475 depending on household income and is intended to help with additional course related costs such as books, equipment, travel or childcare. In the main a care experienced young person will not need to be concerned with household income.

Entitlement is calculated in the same way as the Maintenance Grant but will not affect the amount of Maintenance Loan that a young person may be entitled to receive. Jobcentre Plus or the local authority's Housing Benefit section will not take account of the Special Support Grant when assessing any claim made for income related benefits.

Eligibility

A care experienced young person may be eligible for a Special Support Grant if he / she:

is a lone parent;	has a partner who is also a student; one or both of you is responsible for a child or young person under 20 who is in full-time non-advanced education;	has a disability and qualify for the disability premium or severe disability premium;	is deaf and qualify for Disabled Students' Allowances;	has been treated as incapable of work for a continuous period of at least 28 weeks;	is from abroad and is entitled to an Income Support Urgent Cases Payment because he/she is temporarily without funds for a period of up to six weeks;	is waiting to go back to a course having taken agreed time out from that course due to an illness or caring responsibility that has now ended.

To apply, print off the Application Letter for Special Support Grant on Student Finance NI's website or phone 0300 100 0077 requesting the form and send it to the local Education Authority (EANI) along with evidence.

Evidence

- a passport or birth certificate to prove age;
- a letter from the college or university;
- a copy of tax credit award;
- a copy of a letter from the Department for Work and Pensions which show receipt of benefit as a lone parent;
- a letter, on company header paper, from a professional person who knows the young person's circumstances and can confirm that the young person is a lone parent. A professional person can be, for example, a doctor, lawyer, teacher, police officer or minister of religion.

Please note: if the young person is eligible to receive a Special Support Grant he/she will not be eligible for a Maintenance Grant.

HSC TRUST FINANCIAL ASSESSMENT

In line with Trust responsibilities to support young people in education the responsible Trust is required to undertake a financial needs assessment with the young person well in advance of embarking on his / her course of study. The financial assessment should clearly set out the expenditure and associated costs incurred and the sources of funding available that will enable the young person to embark on and sustain the course of study. Where sources of funding external to the Trust do not meet the full costs of studies the Trust should make a grant payable to the young person to ensure that full costs are met and that there is no financial disincentive to the young person pursuing studies in further education. The Trust should maintain contact with the young person and have an understanding of the young person's ongoing progress. Student Support Services within the HEIs are a primary source of support for the young person and equally for staff and carers who are seeking to identify sources of financial and other forms of support for young people. Such support should be maximised.

STUDENT FINANCE NI

Students leaving the care of the Health and Social Care Trusts or local authority are classed as independent by Student Finance NI providing that they have not returned to the care of their parent(s). This means that their assessment of student support will not be based on the household income of their parent(s).

As household income is not taken into account, single independent students will be entitled to the maximum Maintenance Grant. This is in addition to the other support available, such as loans for fees and living costs. The Grant does not have to be repaid.

Student finance includes:

- A Tuition Fee loan
- A Maintenance Grant
- A Maintenance Loan

HOW MUCH WILL UNIVERSITY COST?

Thinking about and clarifying financial options, such as tuition fees and living costs, are essential to assisting a young person to make a decision to go to university or college. There is a range of expenses associated with going to university, for example, tuition fees, accommodation and living costs. Each young person needs to know about the overall cost of being at university, sources of income, repayment implications and be assisted to work out a budget plan to fully understand how expenses will be covered.

HOW MUCH CAN THE YOUNG PERSON GET?

This will depend on where in the United Kingdom the young person decides to study. Universities and colleges in Northern Ireland can charge up to £4,160 for tuition fees in academic year 2018/19. The young person can get a Tuition Fee Loan to cover the full amount of tuition fees the university or college is charging, up to a maximum of £4,160 in academic year 2018/19.

Universities and colleges in England, Scotland and Wales can charge up to £9,250 for tuition fees in academic year 2018/19. If the young person is studying in one of these countries, he/she can get a Tuition Fee Loan to cover the full amount of tuition fees the university or college is charging, up to a maximum of £9,250.

The amount the young person is charged may vary depending on the course or the university or college chosen to attend. Contact should be made with the university or college directly for more information.

TUITION FEES: FACTS

- A young person can get a Tuition Fee Loan to cover all or part of the tuition fees.
- The young person needs to pay it back after he/she has finished the course.
- The young person will be charged interest on any amount borrowed.
- The money is paid directly to the university or college, not to the young person.

LIVING COSTS

To help with the cost of accommodation, food, clothing, books, travel expenses the young person may be eligible for a Maintenance Grant or a Special Support Grant*, which does not require repayment and a Maintenance Loan, which must be paid back when the young person reaches a certain income bracket when in employment.

MAINTENANCE GRANT AND SPECIAL SUPPORT GRANT:

- These grants are to help with living costs.
- They do not need to be repaid.
- A young person can get either the Maintenance Grant or the Special Support Grant, not both.

MAINTENANCE LOAN:

- The Maintenance Loan is to assist with living costs.
- It must be paid back after completion of the course.
- Interest will be charged on the amount borrowed.

MAINTENANCE GRANT AMOUNT AND MAINTENANCE LOAN AMOUNT*

Household income will not be applicable for care leavers, but may be included if the young person has a partner.

If the total annual household income is:	The amount available is:
£19,203 or less	Full grant (£3,475)

* Which can a young person get?

The Special Support Grant is based on your eligibility for income support or other means-tested benefits, such as, Housing Benefit. For example, if the young person:

- is a single parent
- has a partner who is also a student
- has certain disabilities

With the Special Support Grant (unlike the Maintenance Grant) the Maintenance Loan will not be reduced. Additionally, it does not count as income when working out income related benefits or tax credits.

BURSARIES FROM UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES

Some universities and colleges offer bursaries depending on household income, the course of study or the tuition fee being charged. The amount a young person is entitled to receive can be different depending on the university or college.

Information on bursaries can be obtained from the institution's Widening Access and Participation Plan for 2018/19 which is available on the university / college website. Alternatively, you can make contact with the university or college to find out more about the bursaries they offer.

EXTRA HELP

There is also extra help available for students with children or adults who depend on them financially and students who have disabilities.

STUDENTS WITH CHILDREN OR ADULT DEPENDANTS

There are extra grants available if the young person has children or if there are any adults who depend on the young person financially. The young person would not have to pay any of these back.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

1. Disabled Students Allowances (Higher Education)

When a student with learning difficulties and/or disabilities applies for a Higher Education course they are encouraged to apply for Disabled Students Allowances (DSAs) to help cover the extra costs of any support they may require throughout their course as a direct result of their disability, mental health condition or specific learning difficulty. DSAs can help with the cost of non-medical support providers, major items of specialist equipment, travel and other costs. A student can apply at any time before or during their course, and the amount they can get does not depend on their income or their family income. This allowance does not have to be repaid.

2. Disability Needs Assessment

Through DSAs the Department for the Economy provides funding to meet the costs of a Disability Needs Assessment for each student who presents at the HE Institution with a disability. This is an assessment of the support needs of the student including their specialist equipment requirements and non-medical support provider needs.

3. Register of Support Providers

Through DSAs the DfE also provides funding to meet the administration costs of a Register of Support Providers in each of the two Northern Ireland universities. The Register of Support Providers is a unique service which provides one to one personal support to disabled students registered on recognised higher education courses at any of the colleges or universities in Northern Ireland. The Register maintains and develops a resource of freelance professional and non-professional support providers, who act in specialist roles to support disabled students. The student's support needs are assessed, and the student is "matched" with the appropriate support provider(s). Support providers include audio-typists, note-takers, dyslexia coaches, study skills mentors, sign language interpreters and campus assistants. The Register offers support, guidance and training to those who deliver the non-medical helper support. The Register supports colleges and universities in meeting their duties under the Special Educational Needs and Disability Order (2005) (SENDO). SENDO means that colleges and universities have both anticipatory and reactive duties to accommodate the needs of disabled students by making reasonable adjustments. Where necessary these adjustments will include essential adaptations to student accommodation to meet the needs of disabled students.

STUDENT LOAN REPAYMENT

HOW AND WHEN THE YOUNG PERSON REPAYS

The young person will start to repay the loan from the April following the date the young person graduates or leaves the course.

The young person will pay 9% of anything earned over £18,330 (18/19) before tax per year. For example:

Period Applicable:	Annual Repayment Threshold:	Monthly Repayment Threshold:	Weekly Repayment Threshold:
6/4/18 - 5/4/19	£18,330	£1,527	£352

If the young person has an employer, repayment deductions will be taken directly from the young person's pay slip. For more information refer to the section Repaying through Pay As You Earn (PAYE).

If the young person is self-employed, the young person will need to complete a self-assessment form and return it with any payment by 31 January following the relevant tax year.

WHAT HAPPENS IF THE YOUNG PERSON LEAVES A COURSE DURING THE YEAR

If a young person leaves the course during the year the young person will pay back the following amount of the Tuition Fee Loan.

If you leave:	Tuition Fee Loan young person has to repay:
Before you register for the course:	Nothing
Before the end of term 1:	25%
Before the end of term 2:	50%
Before the end of term 3:	100%

FOSTERING ATTAINMENT AND ACHIEVEMENT SCHEME

Improving Educational Attainment and Achievement of Looked After Children in Foster Care (Fostering Attainment and Achievement) is an educational support service for children living in foster care in Northern Ireland and their foster carers. This service is commissioned by the Health and Social Care Board and delivered by The Fostering Network in Northern Ireland.

The aims of the service are to:

- Improve the educational outcomes of looked after children in foster care
- Help children and young people prepare for school and enhance their ability and improve their readiness to learn

- Improve children and young people’s resilience, employment opportunities and independence.

PATHWAYS TO UNIVERSITY RESIDENTIAL SCHEMES

The Fostering Network work in partnership with Ulster University to deliver the Pathways to University Residential Schemes during the summer. These schemes are targeted at young people aged 15 – 17 years of age and the aim is to raise young people’s aspirations by giving them an opportunity to experience university life and encourage them to apply in the future.

This scheme includes a range of activities to give young people an opportunity to learn about university and gather information to enable them to make informed decisions in the future. They experience student life for real, living in the halls of residence where they are responsible for their own budgeting and cooking during their stay and they can explore the social side of university with activities such as bowling and a movie night.

include YOUTH

Include Youth was established in 1979 and is an independent non-governmental organisation that actively promotes the rights, best interests of and best practice with disadvantaged and vulnerable children and young people.

Include Youth works primarily with and for young people not in education, training or employment (NEET) and the organisation is focused upon three core areas of work:

one: influencing policy – particularly in the areas of youth justice and youth employability.

two: supporting other practitioners to develop more rights based policies and practice.

three: enhancing the employability of young people who are not in education, training or employment through the provision of employability training and support programmes.

The Give and Take scheme works predominantly (but not exclusively) with young people from a care background aged 16 to 21.

It is a pre-vocational employability programme which aims to improve the employability and increase the self-esteem and confidence of vulnerable young people who are not ready to participate in mainstream training and education.

These complex issues reflect the barriers articulated in DEL's Pathways to Success Strategy and demonstrate that the young people engaged on Give and Take are amongst the most vulnerable and needy group of NEET young people. These barriers make it difficult for this group of young people to engage with mainstream education or training or to find employment. The complexity of issues and needs has implications on the model of support that can effectively be delivered to such young people. Include Youth has developed a flexible, highly supportive programme which not only allows young people to remain engaged but sees them achieve qualifications, experience the world of work and begin to address some of the personal barriers that prevent progression.

The model of delivery is a flexible and young person centred, and is delivered by a dedicated and committed staff team of workers who adopt a Youth Work approach in their engagement with young people.

The service consists of five core components:

- Training and Qualifications
- Personal Development
- Work Experiences
- Volunteer Mentors
- Transitional Support

The Transitional support component is a recent development coming from the recognition that sustaining a positive move on to the next stage of a young person's employability journey depends on support structures, available resources and the individual themselves. Young people who have been 'NEET' frequently do not have protective factors such as a stable home, adequate income, supportive relationships or confidence. Often transitions to mainstream providers are difficult for young people, who succeed at a pre-vocational scheme such as the Give and Take Scheme, only to experience a breakdown in their move on placement. In response to this Include Youth has decided to pilot a Transition Support Service.
