Private education loan disclosures

The University advises US students to investigate US federal loans before applying for a US private student loan, as federal loans are often cheaper and most American students are eligible for them. US private loans do not enable students to borrow more funds than US federal loans.

The University will work with whichever private lender the student decides to use, if they are willing to work with us. Please note Sallie Mae is the only lender we are currently aware of that is willing to lend to students at a foreign school. Sallie Mae is not a preferred lender and this does not represent a preferred lender arrangement.

For private education loans applicants must complete a self-certification form.

Code of Conduct for education loans

The University's code of conduct for US education loans is as follows.

In order to prohibit a conflict of interest with the responsibilities of an agent of the school with respect to private education loans, all agents at the University with responsibility for loans will be informed annually of the provision of the code. The code of conduct prohibits agents from:

- revenue-sharing with a lender;
- receiving gifts from lender, guarantor or servicer;
- contracting providing financial benefit from lender or affiliate;
- directing borrowers to particular lender or delaying processing any loans;
- offering funds for private loans;
- call centre or financial aid office staffing assistance; and
- advisory board compensation.
